Who Needs a Lawyer?

These people did, and you may too.
Introducing the Lawdragon 500 Leading Lawyers in America

Richard Owens U.S. attorney’s office (New York, New York) His success cracking down on fraud has this assistant U.S. attorney high on everyone’s list. Cliff Palefsky McGuinn, Hillsman & Palefsky (San Francisco, California) A trailblazer in employment discrimination and workplace drug testing. Brian Panish Panish, Shea & Boyle (Los Angeles, California) A new name on the law firm door, still the same stellar results at trial. Angelo Paparelli Paparelli & Partners (Irvine, California) When companies need immigration help, he’s usually at the top of their list. Richard Parker O'Melveny & Myers (Washington, D.C.) Oversaw merger probes at the FTC (Exxon-Mobil, AOL-Time Warner), he’s now a private antitrust leader. Kirk Pasich Dickstein Shapiro Morin & Oshinsky (Los Angeles, California) When it comes to representing policyholders, there’s no bigger name on the West Coast. Donald Passman Gang, Tyre, Ramer & Brown (Beverly Hills, California) He is a dealmaking maestro for clients like Mariah Carey. Eva Paterson Equal Justice Society (San Francisco, California) The longtime civil rights leader is a powerful voice in the San Francisco public interest community. John Payton Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr (Washington, D.C.) Affirmative action got a big boost from his Supreme Court arguments last year. Michael Pearson Jackson Walker (Houston, Texas) His wide range of skills are like black gold for busy energy companies.