MJ did not have a good Friday and he didn't show on Saturday. He has been habitually late (the norm). I realize he's up against a lot. I have a ton of love and sympathy for what he's been through. We must do all that we can as a team to stay on top of his needs everyday. He requires more attention and management. As I mentioned I truly believe he needs nourishment guidance and physical therapy (massage) for his fatigued muscles and injuries. He is not in great physical shape. I believe he's hurting. He has been slow at grabbing hold of the work. We have twenty days, we can't let him slip. I'm doing all I can every day to build up his confidence and to create a schedule that will help to ready him and to arrive us at our goals. Every time he is late or cancels it chisels away at that possibility. There can be no more calls to Travis asking him to come to the house. MJ needs to be told that it's time to get real. He must take care of himself so that he can meet the schedule or there are going to be consequences. We need a healthy, rested and ready MJ at the Forum and Staples for all the remaining rehearsals as well as the few we have at the O2 in July. Thanks, KO

Frank and I have discussed it already and have requested a face-to-face meeting with the doctor, hopefully Monday. We want to remind him that it is AEG, not MJ who is paying his salary. We want him to understand what is expected of him. He has been dodging Frank so far.

I just wanted to remind you to get our additional Stylist on board ASAP so she can begin shopping this week. I also may require your assistance in putting a few things in place for MJ. We should discuss this in person as it is personal. Were you aware that MJ's Doctor didn't permit him to attend rehearsals yesterday? Are Randy and Frank aware of this? Please have them stay on top of his health situation. Without invading MJ's privacy, it might be a good idea to talk with his Doctor to make sure everything MJ requires is in place. Who is responsible for MJ getting proper nourishment/vitamins/therapy everyday? Personally, I feel he should have a top Nutritionist and Physical Therapist working with him on a regular basis. The demands on this guy are mentally and physically extraordinary! The show requirements exhaust our 20 year olds. Please don't underestimate the need to stay on top of this. I'm in Vegas for the night back at the Forum tomorrow afternoon. Thanks, KO
