Hey guys! on MJ's lead vocal re-sings. i'm not sure if we're going to get what we need in time. i'd like to try to get some alternate takes or un-processed leads from the vault if we can. i can go in with m prince and re-mix the stuff we need on the 22nd (our proposed media day). if we can't get everything we need from the vault i can use what we have and take out ad libs and such to try to make it feel new.

MJ is not in shape enough yet to sing this stuff live and dance at the same time. he can use the ballads to sing live and get his stamina back up. once he's healthy enough and has more strength i have full confidence he can sing the majority of the show live. his voices sounds amazing right now, he just needs to build it back up.

i still want all big dancer numbers to be in the system so he can concentrate on the choreography.

your thoughts?

The plan is he's joining us tonight for band work. How many individual vocals are we talking about? if he put his mind to it, how long would it take. What's
